

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE

THURSDAY EVENING MARCH 21

The New York Press has collected from the largest advertisers of the country their opinions about advertising. As all of them have advertised in every conceivable way, it is interesting to know that their testimony is unanimous on the point that the best advertising of all is by the newspapers. Here are some of the expressions taken from the different letters:

"Two dollars returned for every dollar spent in printers' ink has been the result of our investment in advertising space in the great dailies."

"Practically, the only medium worth using is the newspaper."

"We find newspaper advertising pays the best for the money expended."

"The only reliable medium for advertisers is through the columns of the public press."

"Newspaper advertisements are the eminently economical form of reaching the multitude."

"Next to importance to having the goods is to let the public know it, and there is no better way than through the newspapers."

"Our experience teaches us that display advertising in the daily papers brings the best results."

"It is our experience that advertising pays and our belief that new-papers advertising pays better than any other kind."

"The fact that we receive more than 6,000 newspapers per week with our advertisements inserted indicates the kind of advertising we consider profitable."

"The expression is from some of the richest concerns in the country. They include dry goods men, manufacturers, patent medicines and general dealers, and are thoroughly representative. The conclusion they reach is irrefragable."
